

Small Branding & Design firm looking for talented freelancers (and/or other small firms) for “as needed” support services across a wide variety of marketing and communications projects. Potential projects include, but not limited to: identity/brand development, print (i.e., brochures, direct mail, flyers, sales sheet), web (design and/or development) and copywriting.

Please send email to info@moorheadcreative.com with the following:

- Current Resume
- Examples of work (pdf)
- Hourly Rate
- Preferred work (i.e., branding/identity, print, web, development)

Candidates will be expected to:

- Read and understand creative briefs supplied by agency. We would rather build relationships with people who are not afraid to ask questions in the beginning to develop a higher quality product for the client in the end.
- Have good time management skills. We do not miss deadlines.
- Have good communication skills. We will expect frequent updates and reviews for active projects.
- Concept and design targeted communications materials.
- Ensure consistency in all graphic design efforts with the client’s branding initiatives.
