

2009 Request for Proposals Violence Prevention and Intervention Grant

The American Psychological Foundation (APF) provides financial support for innovative research and programs that enhance the power of psychology to elevate the human condition and advance human potential both now and in generations to come.

APF is committed to funding the application of psychology's unique problem-solving perspective to understanding and preventing violence.

Amount: Up to $20,000

Goals: The program seeks:

- To encourage the transfer of psychological science with regard to violence, its prevention, and intervention strategies to applications within the community;
- To support the implementation of innovative community programs aimed at preventing violence.

Eligibility: Applicants must be 501(c)(3) nonprofit organizations or educational institutions or affiliated with such an organization. Special consideration will be given to programs with a strong foundation in violence prevention and intervention research and those that have, or show promise for broad-based community support. APF encourages proposals from individuals who represent diversity in race, ethnicity, gender, age, disability, and sexual orientation.

APF will consider requests for seed money to establish promising interventions proposed by community-based organizations or to provide funding for established community programs that have been deemed successful

Proposal Content (Not to exceed 7 pages (1 inch margins, no smaller than 11 point font): Describe specifically how the program is based on and applies current psychological research and knowledge and answer the following questions:

- What is the project's goal? Please give an overview of the proposed program
- What is the potential impact of the program on the community?
- How does the proposed project relate to the applicant organization's mission?
- What are the intended outcomes, and how will the project achieve them?
- What is the timeline for accomplishing the activities associated with the proposed project?
- What is the total cost of the project? Please provide a full budget and justification. Indirect costs (e.g., overhead) are not permitted.
